

Social Services Expo 2014

HOLD THE DATE – 18th MARCH 2014 – EDINBURGH (EICC)

If you want to contribute to, and benefit from, learning about current progress and developments in Scotland's social services, then this event is for you!

Marking World Social Work Day and highlighting the extensive range of social services and support in Scotland, this event provides an opportunity to share expertise and ideas, learn from each other, discuss current developments and encourage innovation.

The event will comprise a mixture of speakers, workshops, exhibitors, poster presentations, debate and discussion, global links, media and technology. Participants will be able to create their own programme for the day as well as make new connections.

GETTING INVOLVED

Attending the event? Attendance will be free and booking will open later in the year. Event partners will provide further information and information will be on the web at <http://blogs.iriss.org.uk/social-services-event/>. So make a note of the date and be ready to book!

Contributing to the programme? You or your organisation can get involved by providing a stand in the exhibition area, delivering a presentation on one of your innovations or improvement projects? Or perhaps facilitating a round-table discussion or workshop on a current challenge you are facing, providing a drop-in demonstration or poster presentation etc. Are there speakers you would like to hear from or developments you would like to hear about? This is your chance to contribute to and shape the event. (Proposals/suggestions will be considered by the Event Partners but, of course, we can't promise to include everything!)

To offer suggestions or find out more about how you can contribute please email socialservicesevent@scotland.gsi.gov.uk or call 0131-244-0772 by 11th November 2013
