Potential theme:	Roller skating; Children/young people; Life limiting conditions and disabilities
Short Description:	Skate of Mind wants to run confidence building roller skating classes for children and young people with life limiting conditions and disabilities. SoM's experience from the last year has highlighted that these groups are not receiving support around fitness, confidence and body image. While setting up the Teenage Cancer trust group I have felt a lot of the young people resent their bodies as in their mind their body has let them down. SoM would like to invite a friend, staff member or family member to come and learn with them. If they can share this learning with someone, they are more likely to continue taking part in roller skating or roller sports. SoM would like to run 2 groups in partnership with Teenage cancer Trust and Capability Scotland. SoM is asking for 20,000 for hall hire, equipment, staffing costs, group resources. As this year's groups SoM is looking to continue supporting the participants to attend some of our established groups.
